

NABA, Oregon Chapter presents

"Butterflies and more at Razor Park", with Rick Ahrens

Have you ever noticed a small park, open lot, or weedy field and wondered what lived there?

Rick Ahrens did a survey at Razor Park a few years ago and found more than 160 species of insects and spiders, including 21 butterfly species, 20 species of dragonflies and damselflies,.. and much more.

Rick has been a local naturalist for over 40 years. He has a wide range of interests and is associated with several non-profits in the area.

Join him as we look at the identity and ecology of many of the common insects, birds, reptiles and more.
